During the Christmas and New Year’s holiday, residents all over the CSRA used cooking oil to cook their big feasts and in some cases even deep fried a turkey for the holiday.

But what can residents do with all the oil or grease left-over after cooking?

On Friday, January 13, between 8 a.m.–5 p.m. and Saturday January 14, between 8a.m.-12p.m. the Columbia County Water Utility at 4325 Evans to Lock Road and the Augusta Utilities Department at 1840 Wylds Road are hosting a free “CSRA Used Cooking Oil Recycling Event” to collect the oil and grease from this year’s holiday feasts.

Recycling cooking oil and grease left over from animal fats will help prevent thousands of gallons of oil from ending up in local landfills, storm drains, and clogging sanitary sewer systems.

The following types of cooking oils can be recycled:

- 🔥 Grease leftover from cooking of animal fats (such as bacon grease)
- 🔥 Canola oil
- 🔥 Corn oil
- 🔥 Lard
- 🔥 Olive oil
- 🔥 Peanut oil
- 🔥 Sesame oil
- 🔥 Soybean oil
- 🔥 Sunflower oil
- 🔥 Vegetable oil

Cooking oil should be free of water, soap suds and food scraps, and should be transported in a clean, non-breakable, leak-proof container with a tight lid.*
